“ May God comfort you as you walk through this valley of the shadow of death. We did not know your loved one Alex, but we have had difficult times like you're going through right now. My wife and I have felt the sting of a child's death in our family, but we have come to trust the ones we lost to God's sovereignty. Still, it's hard to go through the tragedy of loss whether the loss is from accidents or illness.

In a big family it's good to remember that everyone grieves differently, and does so at their own pace.

Although the pain of loss affects everyone, as time passes you will be able to think more on the good times that you had together and less about Alex being gone.

It is always good to hear people remember and name the one you've lost.

Alex will not be forgotten by friends and I hope they'll talk with you about their memories of him.
