I regret this for him but he is in a better place and we will all see him again. Prayers for all of you and God Bless. I was his world history teacher.*

“ May God comfort each of the family members as you walk through this valley of the shadow of death. We did not know Brian, but we lost a son that was a little younger than him in an electrical accident and we cherish his memory just as y'all do of your loved one. We've found that each person in the families has to grieve in their own way and own time, so we encourage each of you to be aware and allow that process in the coming months. We found a helpful program called "Grief Share" that's available in many towns that are listed on the website www.griefshare.org . Parents and other family members just like you going through loss of loved ones meet and share their struggles and successes and view a short film that offers helps and advice from counselors. We are of the Christian faith and we dealt with our pain based on our belief that God is still sovereign, even when we don't understand tragedy. It is always good to hear people remember and name the one you've lost. Brian will not be forgotten by friends and I hope they'll share their memories of him with you.
