“ *Kim, Lauren,(as well as the rest of your family), I am so sorry for your loss. I know you are all going through a hard time. At least you know that your mom/grandmother isn't suffering anymore. She is one of God's angels now. All of your wonderful memories with her will stay with you forever.
I love you both!*

“ Carolyn was a blessing to be around at work always sharing a smile and kind word each day I saw her for over 30yrs. I'm so sorry for your loss & I know she has left many wonderful memories for you to enjoy & a family that loved her dearly. She was a good friend to many of us and will never be forgotten. May God comfort you during this difficult time.

“ Just wanted to say that Aston & I love you & miss you more & more as the days go by!!! I just read your obituary on here for the first time..& it brought tears to my eyes when I seen "And one soon to be great grandson Aston James Martin. "...it reminded me of all the times I would sit by you on the couch or in the kitchen & you were always rubbing my belly talking to him trying to get him to kick your hand..& of all our many conversations day & night about him & all the prayers we said together about him..& along with all of these memories there is one memory that will forever stay in my heart & mind & that's how very badly you wanted to see your 1st great grandson...you were determined to do any and every thing in your power to make it long enough so you could be at the hospital when he was born. & just the thot of you not making it to see him saddened you more than anything..& even though God's power was stronger than any of ours & he took you into his arms and freed you from that awful cancer, and all your pain and suffering on August 18th, 2011 & you didn't make it to meet your 1st great grandbaby on November 22, 2011..I still kept all of our promises! In the last few months-weeks you were still with us you reminded me every day and made me promise that if you didn't make it to see him that I would give him a hug and a kiss & tell him his MA loves him every single day! That's a promise I've kept & intend to keep til we meet again! & as he grows older I will share all the many wonderful memories of you with him & let him know we now have a beautiful guardian angel watching over us! I know you would be sooo very proud of him & have him spoiled rotten just like the rest of us if you were still here! I know your not here physically but spiritually you are here with us day and night & I can't wait til we get to see your beautiful face again some day!

“ My heart is so broken for the Reid family at this time of loss. What a sweet woman she was! Our childhood was richer for having her among our Wonderview moms.
