“ I will always be grateful to Charlie for taking me to the Wonderview Basketball games my junior and senior years of high school. I am pretty sure some of the times he may not have wanted to go but if I would call and ask for a ride he would always take me. He was a very kind and gentle giant of a man. He will be missed.

“ I recall many times Charlie and my dad (Ned Smart) headed out early in the morning on a fishing trip, or hunting trip. Those guys loved the outdoors like nobody else I've known. The earlier they started, the better it was, it seemed. Always up before daylight, anxious to get started, the smell of coffee brewing in the kitchen and the sound of conversation and laughter that early in the morning; how could anyone possible remain asleep. Those guys would laugh and carry on like two kids about to go on a grand adventure. They would talk about their last outing, and what they thought might happen this time out. They had a friendship the likes of which is rarely experienced among men. The worked together on the job, served together at the church, helped countless people in the community, and enjoyed each others company the whole time. Charlie was a great friend to my dad and family, and I'm grateful to have known him. I haven't seen him in many years, but will miss him all the same. Now he and dad are re-united in the great beyond, and talking about old times and adventures. Probably planning their next 'outing' and laughing about some memory they just shared.Love to Barbara and family in their loss. Bob & Kay
