“ To All of Clarence's family and friends, I'm so sorry for your pain that you are feeling at this time. Clarence was one of the nicest men I ever met. He made all of his family, even if distantly related, feel like they were closely related. It's hard to say Clarence without Clydean, that's all I ever knew. His in-laws weren't in-laws they were family. He was a very remarkable man, entertaining, loved people, life but most of all he loved God. I love you, Clarence, my cousin and facebook friend. You were one of the best and it was my pleasure to have known you in this life.
