“ What an honor it was to be his nurse and friend. We shared many laughs as he told lots of stories. What a blessing to have no physical or emotional struggles anymore. See you soon, friend!

“ Such a sweet, kind hearted man with a beautiful smile. He could certainly make you laugh. I can only imagine he's hitting on the angels up above and breathing without struggle now. I will keep those he left behind in my thoughts and prayers throughout the coming season and the hard days that will follow.
