“ It is hard to celebrate when we, in our selfishness grieve. Stanton has never been more at peace than he is right now in God's loving presence. So though here on Earth we miss him, we know we will see him again. So Ron even though I know you miss your daddy here and being able to call him or go visit and hug him I know when you see him again what a wonderful reunion it will be. Hugs to you. And my condolences to the family. You are in my prayers for God's comfort during this time. Love, Cathi

“ What a precious and sweet man Stan was. He could be seen at the Bonanza Restaurant helping in anyway he could. Everyone loved Stan and loved his laughter and smile. You are in our thoughts and prayers in the days, weeks, and months ahead.

“ Dad

He was raised up just a country boy, it seems so long ago.

But really it was yesterday, just a short piece down the road.

He grew up knowing God and work and responsibility.

And so it went for many years as he raised a family.

Now some folks show their love through hugs or accolades of praise. But, Daddy showed it differently by working long, hard days.

He made sure we learned of God...the Father and the Son...and how to go to be with Them when our life down here is done.

As I grew up and he grew old, sometimes we disagreed. But, as I grow older, at each days end, I see more of him in me.

The way we walk, the way we talk, the way we joke and tease. Our "cackling" laugh and red, flushed faces are just a few of these.

I'm sure that there'll be days ahead I know I'm gonna miss him. But, I reckon I'll just tell myself, "He's really just gone fishin".

And when I want to see my Dad, "why, nothing could be clearer."

All I'll ever have to do is look into the mirror.

*I love you Daddy,
Ronnie*

“ Stan came in every night and helped us roll silverware at Bonanza when my sister and I worked there. He drank coffee and visited with all the employees. He was a special person to us. God Bless your family as you go thru this time of loss.

“ Stan was a very special friend to both of us. He and Joan stood up with us when we got married. He lived with Dollen and his family for a while and went to school. I have heard so many storie of the thing they did as they were growing up. His family will be in our prayers. We will see some of them Monday nite if it's posible. He's in a better place not and not in any more pain.

“ For many years, Stan has been a close friend of our family. His kindness and generosity are rare qualities in today's world. He is missed, though I know he is in a much better place. I can see him now up in heaven telling one of his silly jokes. We love you, Stan.

“ For those of us on the Atkinson side of the family, Uncle Stant (with a 't' on the end because he was Edwin Stanton Atkinson) will always be rembered fondly. He was always looking for a laugh. He gave me my first cup of coffee at Granny's house. I will always remember seeing him every Sunday of my childhood and how he always cared for Granny, Papaw, and Meemee after Granny and Papaw had passed. He was always patient with his great-nieces in letting us play with his hair and put barrettes in it. His rendition of "Daddy Sang Bass" will always be in my mind. I love you, Uncle Stant!!! I am glad that your body is at peace and that you are rejoicing with those already on the other side.
