“ I will always love & miss you but I know you are in a far better place than we are!

I remember when we came up to the farm to see Aunt Thelma, Uncle Homer & Gaynelle and us kids went out to the pasture. We went to see the horse, Comanche! I was just a little girl but I remember Gaynelle said we could go into the pasture & she would call him. But if he came charging, we better high-tail it back thru the barbwire fence quick cause he was mean as a snake! So here we go, sneaking into the pasture & sure enough she calls & he comes charging! Well I wasn't tall enough to go over the top barbwire so I had to go thru the middle, and wouldn't you know I got hung up & I'm screaming cause he's charging & I can't get loose! Finally I'm loose & I barely get out before he gets there! My heart was pounding a mile a minute! Boy I might have been scared to death that day but thinking back I have such fond memories of that day!

I'm saddened to see another of us grandkids pass away. There were 11 of us. Now there's 8. We've lost Jim a few years back, & this year we lost Robert & now Gaynelle. Rest in arms of our Savior! We will see you all again in a little while...

“ My heart breaks today. For one of my sweet sisters, Gaynelle McNew, passed away today. When someone needed encouragement, she was there. When her Mom or kids needed anything, she was there. Going the extra mile for people was as natural for her as breathing. I am sure that she could tell stories of my children when they were little and Laura was just learning to talk. I will still hear her laugh, see her smile, and feel her love for years to come. Welcome home to heaven Gaynelle!
