“ Janett was very special to me. We had a lot of laughs but never any tears because she always said " Put it in Gods hands". I have to tell on her.. She was stubborn at times but this one time I didn't let her win. We went grocery shopping and she could hardly walk. I asked her to get in one of those handicapped carts. She said NO I don't know how to drive it. I said I will teach you. She reluctantly got on the cart and I showed her to run it. She was scared of running over someone. Once she got the hang of it minus hitting a few endcaps she did great. Janett told everyone in the store, " this is my first time driving one of these things" with a big smile on her face. That day she had a proud moment and I let her bask in her own glory. Sometimes that is all it takes is to help someone accomplish something they didn't think they could do. Im going to miss my friend. I love you Janett and Im sure going to miss you. ~ Becky Baggett
