JoAnn and her family will always be part of my most treasured childhood memories. My sister and I would spend a week with our Grandma Ethel during the summers, and JoAnn always went out of her way to make the visit very special.

In her later years when we would visit, she always kept us entertained with her stories.

I loved Aunt JoAnn very much and will miss her. She will always have a special place in my heart.

“ The History of Mama She was born in the month of February back in 1935. Times were tough back then and folks had to struggle just tryin' to survive. Then her Daddy died in '44 when she was only nine. But with the help of God and her mother's strength, they made it through just fine. Pickin' cotton in the bottoms with her sister and her brothers. She was the baby, but she pulled her weight just like all the others. She became a wife in '52 at the age of seventeen. Then had her first born son at the age of 20. That changed a lot of things. But there was room in her heart for another child, so she gave it one more try. And then gave birth to a second son sometimes I wonder why. Children can be so difficult with all their wants and needs. And it takes all the strength a mother can muster to accomplish all her deeds. We never knew what it was like to wear dirty, un-ironed clothes. Or go hungry or sleep in an un-made bed, as many other children do I suppose. I can't recall us ever being sick without Mama being right there. Or taking a nap before being rocked in that big, green rocking chair. Mama took us to church, along with Daddy to learn about Jesus and heaven. My brother was saved at the age of sixteen and me at the age of eleven. But, it didn't stop there; she continued to love us through all of life's travails. And she prayed for us and cried for us when in our lives we'd fail. In the end, I'm so grateful that the Lord gave us a Christian mother. Who was determined to have us grow up rightone way or another. Even in her last few days, I'm amazed at what she did. In her last few words she asked my cousin, Please pray for the kids. I love you Mama.
