“ John was in my fifth grade class at Nemo Vista. This was my first teaching job, and I remember his class very well. John was very bright and was always so polite to everyone. Throughout the years, I have seen him and asked if he remembered fifth grade and that I was his teacher. He would smile and say, "yes, Mrs. Smith." I would ask him about college and was very proud of his accomplishments. The last time I saw John he couldn't wait to show me pictures of his children because he loved his family. So many times teachers don't have the opportunity to see students grow up and be successful. I am glad I had the opportunity to teach John and will always remember him. God Bless his friends and family.

“ Megan, I am so sorry about your loss and I cant even begin to know what you are going through. John wasn't a good man he was a great man, I wish i would have had a lot more time to hang out with him. We never seemed to see eye to eye on anything when we lived together but it worked. The thing about John that I will always remember is that he cared about the path I was on and cared about my success. See he pushed me through school (even carried me most of the time), he always either made me get up for class or tried his hardest too. At the time I saw it as nagging, I used to tell him he wasnt my mother, but looking back I know it was only because he cared. He was truly one of a kind but I believe he left piece in all of us and those 2 beautiful little boys. Jeanne and I love you all and I will see you soon. "Trust in God, He is the answer." Our thoughts and prayers are with you...

“ John Honeycutt was one of the best people I have ever had the chance to know. He was very smart, funny, and loved life. I learned a lot from him in the couple years I was able to be around him in college. I was very sad to hear what happened. To John's family I want to say I am very sorry, and make sure those little boys know what kind of Dad they had. I'm sure they will grow up to be just like him.

“ Little John, you are going to be missed so much by so many people. You never met a stranger, made friends with everyone. We can't keep asking the question why, but keep wondering what the plan God had for you when he took you from us so fast. So many memories, so many stories to pass on to those that will not get to know you and remember you years to come. Rest in peace John, till we meet again someday. I love you and miss you.
