“ I met Larry Wayne in college, when we were both members of a fraternity that could have been the basis of the "Animal House" movie. We stayed in touch through most of the subsequent years through visits, phone calls and e-mails. He was one of the funniest, sweetest most pleasant humans I've had the pleasure to know. Though he traveled and lived far and wide, I'm glad he finally came home to Arkansas and that we got to visit Mather Lodge one day while he was working there and catch up on old times. And my wife took a priceless photo of Larry and I together, which she titled "old friends"...

“ Sincere thoughts and prayers to Larry's family. A great guy who loved to fish, cook in the kitchen and still considered one of my very best friends. A New Year's trip to New York in 1999 changed our world.

“ I had the pleasure of working with Larry during his Pine Bluff days and have lots of great, and funny, memories. Larry was always ready for anything that was thrown at him and I can still remember his impish smile, big grin, and contagious laugh. He was something else and will truly be missed. Rest well my friend.
