It will forever be in your heart and never left behind. A mothers love helps you grow each and every day. And I know Melanie is proud of you in every single way. A mothers love will always lead and guide you, for her spirit and her soul will always be there beside you. A mothers love can bring you through things like no other, for only that kind of love can come from your mother. Tiffany, we love you and pray that God gives you the strength needed in this time.

“ Melanie was one of the sweetest women I have ever known. I never realized when we were younger just how strong she was. She fought like a tiger to have you, Tiff. And we all knew you were worth her fight. You know she would want you to be strong for her now, and for your boys. She taught you how to be strong in her last few years. You have it in you. You are as strong as she. It is hard, but you can do it. Your boys need you just like you needed her. But you have your husband and your boys now. She can rest in peace and she knew that. Why do you think she fought so long? She knows you are taken care of now. She is resting peacefully with Granddad and you are safe with Josh and happy with your family. She knew it was safe to leave you. If she were here she would tell you to go on with your life and BE HAPPY. I love you and my prayers are with you.

“ Tiffany and family: My heart hurts for you guys - Melanie was so full of life despite every battle she faced - she managed to put a smile on and conquer the day - seems a little ironic that in life she brought her child to me for daycare and in death it's she who is watching my child - I know they're having a great time up there waiting for us. Love and prayers to you all - Brenda
