“ My second "momma"... what can I say? Haven't seen her in years, but remember so well the look on her face when I surprised her knocking on her front door one night after seeing Gina at Yesterday's. I think Jim was pretty confused until she explained who I was and how close we were. She was one of a kind, special, and just down right "somethin'..." She will always be a part of me. God bless you all, Joey, Christy, Regina, and David.
