“ Shirley and I had a special bond because of her kids. We both loved them very much and I was one of the fortunate few that she would allow to have them in my classroom. I loved Shirley like a member of my own family and am so sorry that I lost contact with her when she moved away. I have thought of her often over the last few years and know that she is now happy and at peace. May God hold you in his arms and comfort you in this time and help you through this difficult place you are in. Bless you all.

“ Shirley was a treasure to our special needs students. She was patient and loving to her precious ones. To her they were equal or above our regular students. Shirley took it hard when anyone shunned them. She reconized their potential, their great love for others, and their ability to forgive.

Shirley was a special friend that I had the pleasure of knowing. She loved to read, play cards, and laugh at lifes little surprises. She was a private and quite person that many didn't really get to know. This was a great loss to those who never really knew her. I will always cherish the time that I spent with her and her mother (who was a lovable character). May Shirley's loving soul spread its wings and soar to the kingdom of heaven to receive her earned rewards. May God bless and care for her family in their hour of sorrow.
