“ Valerie was such a positive person and had a helpful spirit. I met her as we did work for Petit Jean State Bank and it was a delight to work with her. I know she will be missed by all who knew her, but her struggles on earth are over and we should not be sad for that. May you take cmfort in the memories you have of her.

“ The family of Valerie McGhee wishes to send a warm thank you to the members of the local community who helped and supported her during her illness. We are so appreciative of how you all have pulled together to sponsor and participate in the fundraisers and benefits for Valerie in an effort to help when needed. We can clearly see that the love and caring that Val had for her friends and family is also quite evident in the community in which she lived and worked. Specifically we want to acknowledge a few people who gave so much of themselves for which we can never seem to thank enough as they directly made Valerie's final days here as comfortable as they could be. Thank you to the women from Hospice and especially Barbara and Sandra, who were there at the end. We are so appreciative that Valerie was in such capable, caring, sensitive and loving hands. You truly are angels here on earth. And we will never forget you. Also, thank-you Evelyn and Betty, who cared for Valerie on an almost daily basis. You showed such love in the way you cared for her. Thank you, Jennifer Styron, for taking care of the legal matters and for handling things with the hospital and getting Valerie the equipment she needed to make life more tolerable for her and her children. You are someone whom Valerie loved and could always rely on. Your friendship runs deep and is a testament to and an insight into Valerie's perspective and love of family and friends. You give new meaning to the word friend. Last but certainly not least thank you, Richard Gangluff, for your tireless devotion to Valerie, changing your work schedule to care for her, staying with her at the hospital, building a ramp for her wheelchair and for the many other things you did to help around the house that are far too many to list. You are truly a kind and wonderful man with a heart of pure gold. It gave us comfort to know you were there for her. You are truly a gift. We will all miss Val so much but what a blessing it was to have known her and loved her.
