“ When Virgil was way younger his father would coon hunt. Steve Ballard n I had coon dogs and hunted with Vernon quite a bit. Virgil tagged along several times. One night they were hunting and Virgil was between Vernon n Steve. Each limb he would come to he'd hold it just as long as he could then let loose and it would slap the person behind him across the face. Vernon told him to stop several times and of course being Virgil he didn't. About the 4th times he did it Steve booted him in the butt and got his attention and finally he stopped hold limbs.
