“ So it's this simple things that make me miss you from day to day. Today's breakdown came in the form of a “boat coffin”, custom built for the outdoorsman of course. I couldn't help but to think just how “bad ass” you would think that is and how you need one....that's when i lost it. I miss that smile so much especially on days like today.

“ I remember Mike coming to my house playing pool and having a good time! After being disabled in 2005 I lost track of Mike, I did get the pleasure of seeing him 6 months ago.

He hadn't change since I left work, he was always Happy and wearing a Smile.

Always nice being around him.

Our Prayers and Condolences go out to his Family and Friends.
